

I am writing to ask that Indiana's No-Call program remain in force, and not be overridden by a federal policy. We were receiving telemarketing calls approximately every 10 minutes throughout the day before signing on to the Indiana No-Call list. No telemarketers have called since! This has enabled us to eliminate costly Caller ID and Privacy Manager from our phone service, saving us, not only hassles, but money, too. There's an old saying that is so appropriate: If it ain't broke, don't fix it.
